Education & Philanthropy
Across the globe, SAS offices manage programs tailored to fit the needs of their communities and the interests of SAS employees. In 2018, SAS donated more than $95 million to nonprofits across the globe. SAS targets education initiatives in science, technology, engineering and mathematics to ensure the next generation of computer innovators have the knowledge and skills to succeed.

In 2018, SAS China partnered with Tsinghua University and Peking University to teach SAS courses. Employees volunteered more than 90 hours with students. In addition, the office hosted an annual nonprofit competition, the SAS China Data Analytics Championship, for Chinese college students majoring in analytics-related specialties to showcase their work. More than 3,600 students from a variety of universities throughout the country participated.
