SAS Global Forum

SAS Global Forum, formerly known as SAS Users Group International (SUGI), is a non-profit organization that is open to all SAS® software users throughout the world. There is no membership fee. SAS Global Forum is governed by an Executive Board that is made up of past and future conference chairs and representatives from SAS Institute. The organization was formed to provide a means for SAS® software users to exchange ideas, explore ways of using SAS® software, and participate in activities of mutual interest.

To accomplish those goals SAS Global Forum plans and sponsors a yearly international conference to promote educational, training, networking, and professional development opportunities for SAS® users. The annual conference is directed by a conference chair, who is assisted by various section chairs.

This page provides an easy way to access the SAS Global Forum and SUGI proceedings.
