Proceedings FAQ

Q: What are the SAS Global Forum 2018 Proceedings?
A: The proceedings are the formal papers, e-posters or presentation slides from the SAS Global Forum 2018 sessions.

Q: How can I search for a session?
A: The best way is to do a Google search if you know the specific title or author. From the Proceedings page, you can also use the search functionality built into your web browser by using Ctrl+F.

Q: What other ways are there to search the proceedings?
A: You can search the proceedings by various categories, including: topic, product, industry, skill level and job role.

Q: What if I can’t find a session that I know was presented at SAS Global Forum 2018?
A: The proceedings will only have information about a session if the author provided permission to publish their paper or presentation slides. If nothing was provided, there is not an entry in the proceedings.

Q: I’m looking for proceedings from a prior SAS Global Forum. Where can I find them?
A: There are links to past proceedings from the Conferences tab at www.sas.com/sasgf-conferences.